TAKE SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR
For all Diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Spleen.

This purely vegetable preparation, now so celebrated as a Family Medicine, originated in the South in 1828. It acts gently on the Bowels and Kidneys and corrects the action of the Liver, and is, therefore, the best preparatory medicine, whatever the sickness may prove to be. In all common diseases it will, unassisted by any other medicine, effect a speedy cure.

The Regulator is safe to administer in any condition of the system, and under no circumstances can it do harm. It will invigorate like a glass of wine, but is no intoxicating beverage to lead to intemperance; will promote digestion, dissipate headache, and generally tone up the system. The dose is small, not unpleasant, and its virtues undoubted.

No loss of time, no interruption or stoppage of business while taking the Regulator.

Children complaining of Colic, Headache, or Sick Stomach, a teaspoonful or more will give relief.

If taken occasionally by patients exposed to MALARIA, will expel the poison and protect them from attack.

A PHYSICIAN'S OPINION.

I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action, and at the same time aid (instead of weakening) the digestive and assimilative powers of the system. THEIR LUNCH PARTY.

'Lou,' said pretty little Mrs. Walton, to her young guest and sister-in-law, 'I believe I'll give a lunch party.'

'Do,' assented Lou, promptly.

'Everybody has been so very polite to you,' went on Mrs. Walton, 'I would like to do something in return, and—'

'A lunch is the very easiest thing, you indolent female,' finished Lou. 'I know your tricks and your manners, and now when shall it be?'

'Let me see,' began Mrs. Walton. 'To-morrow will be Saturday, and in next week Tuesday is the church festival, Wednesday that picnic—'

'And Thursday Mrs. Doctor Appleton goes back to Boston. She has said it, and the law of the Medes and Persians are brittle compared to her word,' interpolated Lou.

'How about her son. There, don't blush, my dear. Of course we must have Mrs. Appleton, and there is no alternate but to set our luncheon for Monday. It is a poor day for such an undertaking, for everything will have to be done the same day, but it's Hobson's choice. You write the notes, like a good soul, and we'll have Tom send up his office boy at noon to deliver them.'

So that Friday afternoon thirty-two of the elite of Brockton's permanent and summer adult female residents were duly informed that Mrs. Thomas Walton would be happy to see them at luncheon Monday, at one o'clock, to meet Miss Walton.

'We'll just have one extravagance,' said Mrs. Tom, coaxingly, to her big, handsome husband, the same evening. 'You must write down to Keppler's for three dozen of his chicken pates, to come up on the 9.05 train, Monday. Be sure it's the 9.05. That'll be such a relief, Lou, one thing to depend upon made out of the house.'

'Yes, indeed,' acquiesced Lou, 'and your Aunt Helen told me a little while ago she would get up early Monday morning, and make two large loaves of her famous White Mountain cake; send it over fresh and frosted by eleven o'clock.'

'She's a darling,' said Mrs. Tom, enthusiastically. 'Now I feel as if we should distinguished ourselves. I'm counting on you for your unapproachable peach ice cream and shrimp salad, and I'll manage to worry through the wine jelly. Sarah must out do herself on the raised biscuit, small and fresh, but not warm, you know.'

'Yes,' said Lou, 'and I've got a new idea about the salad—that clever Mrs. Ellis gave it to me. Take perfect, firm tomatoes, not too ripe, scald and peel them and slice off the tops; then scoop out the inside and mix it with the shrimps and chopped hard boiled eggs. Pour over the filling a mayonnaise dressing and return to the tomato shells. It makes such a pretty looking dish, and the salad is easily eaten out of its red cup.'

'Lou, you are an inspiration,' cried Kate; 'the fame of this luncheon will go thundering down the ages. Brockton has never eaten salad from a tomato. Tom, I'm glad I married into the family. Your sister's intellect makes up for your—' but Tom had fled.

The first set back occurred Sunday morning, and it came double. The milkman who had been spoken to on Saturday, to bring cream, announced when he came Sunday morning that he couldn't promise it, and Mrs. Tom, who had made her wine jelly Saturday evening, when she slipped down cellar after breakfast just to take a peep at its condition, felt her heart drop way down into her little bronze slippers as she confronted the rows of watery-looking moulds.

'It won't harden!' she whispered, hoarsely.

'The jelly,' and then two pairs of slipper heels clicked down the wooden stairway.

Lou looked and shook her head.

'It must be taken out and melted up, and more gelatine added, and more wine.'

'It ought to be done to-day,' suggested Mrs. Tom.

'Now,' said Lou, laconically. 'You go and get the wine, and I'll put the gelatine to soften. Then just before church I'll slip out and put it together again. Yes, I know it's Sunday, but it's got to be done, and I'll go straight to church from the cellar.'

Kate laughed, and the programme was duly carried out.

In the afternoon Mrs. Tom and her sister-in-law were obliged to discuss the cream question.

'We must have it to-night, or very early in the morning,' said Kate. 'The only place I know of is down at Sammy Dunn's, over the creek. He keeps cows and sells cream.'

'Oh, yes, I know the place,' said Lou, 'beyond the old mill. I'll take the children and walk down there now. Don't frown, we always go for a walk, you know, and I'll tell them Sunday-school stories all the way.

And this irrepressible young woman picked up her hat, calling to the three young Waltons as she ran down the steps.

In about an hour the party returned. They brought some cream, with the promise of more in the morning, and they also brought young Doctor Appleton. The former was put on the ice, and the latter on the piazza with Lou to entertain him, with Mrs. Tom gave the children their early supper of bread and milk.

'Kate,' he said to his wife when she presently appeared, 'I've been over to your Aunt Helen's. She's in bed, trying to fight off one of her nervous headaches.'

A simultaneous exclamation of dismay burst from the lips of the two ladies.

'Why, what's the matter?' asked Tom, surprised. 'Aunt Helen's nervous headaches are not alarming.'

'I must go right over there,' said his wife, jumping up. 'Doctor,'—a sudden thought striking her—'don't you know of any remedy that will ward off a regulation nervous headache for a day? It is positively necessary that Aunt Helen does not succumb for another twenty-four hours.'

'Oh, positively,' broke in Lou, who saw visions of a cakeless lunch. 'There will be no reward too great for you, Dr. Appleton, if you can delay this attack!'

'Will there not?' asked the young man, quietly looking down at Lou in a way that made the treacherous color show in her cheeks. 'If my compensation is to be so unlimited,' he went on, taking his hat and facing Mrs. Tom at the foot of the steps, 'I shall certainly try for it.'

He did not come back, but sent a goodnight by Kate, who reported Aunt Helen sleeping quietly from th Doctor's potion.

By ten o'clock Tom yawned and believed he would go up stairs, and when he had fairly gone Lou unfolded a startling sheme.

'Kate, we can't depend on your aunt,' she began. 'We may have the cake to make in the morning. At any rate there's the house to put in order, the flowers to arrange, the table to lay, the salad to make—and noon comes soon. If you help me a little I'll make the ice cream to-night, and then in the morning it will only be a question of twenty minutes to re-pack it. Sunday really ends at sundown, you know, and besides, we've been so wicked all day about this dreadful luncheon, a little extra back sliding wont make much difference.'

Two hours later Tom Walton, aroused by a heavy thud-thud! opened his eyes. His wire was not at his side, and the thud-thud! came now plainly from somewhere at the back of the house. Thoughts of burglars, midnight assassins and what not, flitted through his brain as he hurried into some clothes and, taking his pistol, stole softly down the stairs.

The sitting and dining rooms were dark; the kitchen, also, had no light, but from the wood-shed beyond came a little glimmer, and he caught the subdued murmur of voices and the regular thud-thud that had awakened him.

He crossed the kitchen and gently pushed the door ajar to see—the lovely wife of his bosom, with skirts kilted above her ankles, and rubbers on over her slippers, ladling broken ice and salt into a patent ice cream freezer, while his stylish young sister, equally kilted and rubbered, was swinging an axe with all her force, broadside upon an old canvass bag, filled with ice.

'There,' said Kate, 'you've got enough, Lou—and now we're through.'

And then they both turned and saw Tom standing in the doorway, pistol in hand.

Tableau.

'Kate,' whispered Lou, tapping at her door by six o'clock the next morning, 'it has poured all night—is raining now; hot water, too; a nasty, sultry, August day, and the vegetable man has just come, with no tomatoes.'

That was the way morning began, and the plot thickened as it progressed. There was so much to be done and so little time to do it in; the rain kept the children indoors and underfoot at every turn; the 9.05 train came in with the pates; every store in the village was ramsacked in vain for tomatoes, Monday being a poor day for vegetables; and at eleven oclock Ben, Aunt Helen's gardener, came over with only a handful of flowers—'for you see, Miss Walton,' he explained to Lou, 'the rain has beat down everything, all the jeeraynium's and the verbeanyas and roses and everythin'.'

But he brought the cake, tempting and delicious, and Lou's heart beat with a thick throb, as she saw the fruit of Dr. Appleton's skill, and her cheeks flushed, then paled, as she recalled his meaning look of the night before, when he had started out to try his remedy!

And whether there was a secret magic in the snowy loaves or not, from the moment they arrived things bettered.

Ben solved the tomato problem and made the new salad possible, by trudging back to Aunt Helen's vines and gleaning sufficient for their use; a friend who had a greenhouse thoughtfully sent down a great box of lovely flowers, and Tom came in with a despatch that the pates would come at 12.15, and also a basket of choice fruits which was the gentleman's contribution to the entertainment.

And the jelly hardened beautifully, the ice cream was smooth and solid, the yellow salad in its ruby nests would have tempted a king, and the first guest did not suspect that the tall, dignified young women in a cool-looking, lavender muslin, with a bunch of scarlet flowers in her belt, had left the kitchen, after a long morning of unremitting toil, only fifteen minutes before, to rush up stairs and don her furbelows.

'A most charming lunch-party,' said Mrs. Dr. Appleton to her son that evening, 'and Miss Walton is really a very pretty and well bred young person. like dignity and self-possession, and she has both, and I believe she made the peach ice cream, which was simply worthy of a cordon bleu.'

So young Dr. Appleton had his august mamma's approval when he asked Lou that same evening, a little later on the moonlight piazza of her brother's home, if he might name the reward he claimed for the restoration of Aunt Helen.

You can guess what it was, but not everybody knows that a wedding before the next Christmas was the out-come of their 'lunch party.'

Do Birds Fly Down?

I see, in a back number of St. Nicholas, that one of your young correspondents appeals partly to me in regard to birds flying down. But all who have written seem so well posted that I doubt if I can add anything to their knowledge.

However, I have seen a California quail, a wood-dove, and a hummingbird fly downward; but in slow-flyers with large wings and heavy bodies, the wings are used more or less as parachutes in going down; in other words, the birds spread their wings, and rely upon gravity. This I have noticed in the sand-hill cranes in their migrations along the Sierra Madres. A flock, of say a hundred, will mount upward in a beautiful spiral, flashing in the sunlight, all the while uttering loud, discordant notes, until they attain an attitude of nearly a mile above the sea level. Then they form in regular lines, and soar away at an angle that in five miles or so will bring them within one thousand feet of the earth. Then they will stop and begin the spiral upward movement again until a high elevation is reached, when away they go again sliding downhill in the air, toward their winter home. It is very evident that a vast amount of muscular exertion is saved in this way. In some of these slides that I have watched through a glass, birds would pass from three to four miles, I should judge, without flapping their wings.—C. F. HOLDER in "St. Nicholas."

HARD TIMES.

There are chronic grumblers among farmers as well as those engaged in other pursuits. Indeed, we have seen farmers so addicted to fault finding, that let the season be ever so favorable, their crops never so abundant, and prices of farm produce never so high, they would continue to grumble and complain of hard times. A farmer often finds the hard-times' excuse a sufficient reason for leaving the old homestead and trying his luck elsewhere; perhaps in the far West. But for such, there is no spot on earth that can suit them, and where ever they go, hard times will be the burden of their song.

A few days since we accidentally met one of these chronic grumbling farmers. He was an old acquaintance from a town not far away from Augusta. After the usual salutations, on being asked if there was anything new he replied: 'Nothing stirring except hard times, and that is nothing new.' We replied that we were not aware that times were uncommonly hard, but on the contrary, thought that they were quite good for farmers. He answered: 'You are mightily mistaken; that times were so hard that farmers found it very difficult to support their families and raise money enough to pay taxes, and as for himself, he had almost made up his mind to sell out, and go where lands were cheaper and better.'

We expressed our regret at such a state of things; told him that we and several of our friends were laying in our supplies, and would take some of his produce and pay him cash for it; that if he would bring in a few cords of seasoned hard wood we would pay him six dollars per cord, but he said he had none cut, not even enough for his own use. We told him we would find a chance for him to sell a few tons of good hay, at fourteen dollars per ton delivered, but he said 'he expected to have to buy to keep out his own stock.' Then we offered him a dollar a bushel for nice home-grown corn, twenty-five cents per pound for good butter, fifty cents per bushel for oats and sixty for good potatoes, but the answer was the same in each case, 'I have none to spare.'

On inquiry we learned that he had one hundred acres of good land, of which sixty acres were cleared and in grazing or mowing; that he had twenty-five acres in old growth wood and fifteen acres in sprout-land; that his thirty acres of mowing did not yield over twelve tons of hay; that his pasture was largely grown up to bushes; that he kept a horse and no oxen; that he had three boys from twelve to eighteen years of age; that his house was out of repair, barn roof leaky, fences down, and that they all had to work like dogs, "to make the strap meet and buckle," and sometimes they fell behind and were obliged to get in debt.

We made up our mind that it was hard times with him, and always would be, no matter where he might pitch his tent. When a man with one hundred acres of nice Kenebec county land, with help enough to carry on his farm without hiring, with no sickness or other similar drawbacks, was willing to confess that he had raised nothing to sell and found it hard to make both ends meet, we knew that the trouble was with him, and not with his farm. The fact that he kept a horse and no oxen, was a suspicious circumstance of itself, and when we know that that horse may be seen almost any afternoon hitched up on Water street, we can well understand the cause of hard times on that farm.

WASHINGTON.

(Correspondence of the N. Y. Observer.)

A few days ago I conversed with an Indian of a tribe that was new to me. He was a Catawba, a name familiar to me only in its application to a grape fruit, of a popular variety. Upon consulting an atlas, in common use a hundred and fifty years ago, I found Catawba River, and Catawba village, in South Carolina's northeastern border. And there, in proximity to what was then the southern boundary of North Carolina, lived the small tribe of Catawba Indians. They were peaceable, industrious cultivators of the soil, and inclined to Christianity. By grant from the colonial government, they occupied twenty-five square miles of territory; but, in course of time, the whites as usual began to encroach upon their land without leave or license. At length the South Carolina government induced them to lease their fields at a nominal rent; but, finally, even that satisfaction was denied them. At present less than a hundred of these Indians survive. Their chief with whom I conversed was educated in Georgia.

Secretary Bayard does some good things, and one of the most recent was his recommendation on the 28th of January to the United States Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, condemning the claim of Pelletier on the Haytien Government for pecuniary damages, because he was imprisoned in Hayti for slave-dealing, a thing which he claimed violated no law of that island. You may remember the arbitrator, ex-Judge Strong, to whom it had been referred by the parties, awarded Pelletier $57,000. Our Department of State declares that it is not right that the Haytien Government should not pay it.

Washington and Georgetown are to have a cable railway some miles in length, the fare to be five cents. After several amendments the bill was adopted in the House on January 28th, by a vote of 155 to 72. One condition is that all of the iron to be used in its construction shall be American.

The Senate has passed a measure utilizing agricultural colleges as agricultural experiment stations, working in harmony in that service, for the information and benefit of farmers in general; the Congressional appropriation to each State and Territory for that national service to be $15,000. It is to be hoped that the bill will become a law.

Another good bill offered in the Senate the same day originated with Mr. Edmunds, though offered by Senator Ingalls, of Kansas. It provides for the establishment (in the District) of an Inebriates' Hospital and Reformatory. If it shall prove as useful an institution as that which, in New York City, is superintended by Capt. Bunting, Washingtonians will admit it to be a public blessing. A greater still would be the extinction of the drunkard-makers. Miss Frances E. Willard and her temperance co-workers in Washington prefer the latter method, and are holding meetings to that end. A. L. S.

A TEXAS TRAGEDY.

A Stockton lawyer was at the big city by the Bay the other day, and while watching a large funeral wind slowly along the hills he was accosted by a tall fellow, whose sun-burned face was eavesboarded by the wide brim of a slouch hat.

'Could you tell me,' asked the stranger politely, 'whose turnout that is?'

'Yes, sir,' answered the man, sharply.

'Thank you. And whose is it?'

'The undertaker's,'

'Ah! And may I ask who the corpse was?'

'You may.'

'Thank you. And who was he?'

'A lawyer.'

'A——'

The stranger paused as if doubtful of his ears, looked at the man earnestly, and asked, in an eager, you-don't-say-so sort of a voice:

'Did you say a lawyer?'

'Yes, sir; a lawyer.'

'H'm; that's strange.'

'I don't see anything strange about it,' retorted the attorney, slightly nettled.

'Well,' explained the other, suavely, 'you see, we don't bury lawyers that way in Texas, where I come from.'

'Not?'

'No. When a lawyer dies there we put him in the third story of a vacant building, you know.'

He paused with aggravating calmness.

'Well?'

'And then we go up the next day and the corpse is gone.'

'Gone?'

'Yes, sir.'

'Gone where?'

'That's the mystery,' replied the Texan, shrugging his shoulders, 'no body knows where.

'Why, that is the strangest thing I ever heard of.'

'Yes,' said the mild Texan, 'but that ain't the queerest thing about it, either.'

'No?'

They parted with mutual dislike.

Kate Field Talks About "The Men."

Miss Kate Field made a little speech after a dinner given the other night by a local post of the Grand Army of the Republic. She was asked to respond to the highly original toast: "The Men." She said:

"When the Commander of this gallant Post invited me to be present this evening I accepted with pleasure, as some of my dearest friends belong to the Grand Army. But when your Commander blandly insinuated that he wanted me to say something I hesitated, as there was nothing for me to talk about, all the toasts having been assigned to eloquent speakers. Then it occurred to me that I might say a good word for the men, God bless them! They have so long toasted the women as to make it but fair that they at last should be toasted by a woman. They have too long had the field to themselves. For nearly 6,000 years they have been talking. But as there is as much sex in mind as there is in matter we have seen all things in profile. Now, an artist will tell you that the two sides of the same face are not exactly alike. I pray, therefore, let us have the other profile around your camp-fire, whereby we may see the entire face, gaze into the tell-tale eyes, and thus get at the soul of all things. Pray, who does the greater part of speaking in private, Mr. or Mrs. Claudle? Were I a man I should hail public speaking by women as a blessing in disguise. When Vesuvius is in a state of eruption Etna is quiet. If tradition be correct women are not lacking in fluency of diction. Indeed, it has been seriously questioned whether women partake of celestial joys, because once upon a time there was silence in Heaven for the space of half an hour. Then, if precedent be required, women can trace back their oratorical privileges much farther than men, for Eve was the original orator. It is to the persuasive, after-dinner pleading—for it was you remember, after the apples—that we owe all knowledge. So, in behalf of my suppressed oratorical sex I took the men—God bless them! Said I to your Commander: 'No speech at your camp-fire should be longer than five minutes.' 'Good gracious!' he replied, 'do you think you can do justice to men in five minutes?' No; but in less than that brief period I can give some sign of my appreciation. A child may worship the stars and yet be unable to select one bright particular planet for future abode. An ardent fisherman in a cane-brake may seek for the best rod until he emerges on the farther side. So a single woman may respond most warmly to this toast for the special reason that she is committed to no particular type and is held responsible for no selection. First of all let me assert that the one great virtue in man loved and admired by all womanhood is courage. In this assembly of boys with gray beards, on whose breasts shine the bronze stars made out of cannon captured from the enemy, I stand surrounded by physical courage, and if your moral courage and your intelligence at the ballot-box be equal to your still sturdy right arms this Republic will be perpetuated and honored by the same Grand Army—by its noble remnants at least—that saved the cause of liberty twenty-five years ago."

What to Teach Our Daughters.

At a social gathering, says the Charleston, S. C. Dispatch, some one proposed this question: "What shall I teach my daughter?" The following replies were handed in:

Teach her that 100 cents make $1.

Teach her how to arrange the parlor and the library.

Teach her to say "No," and mean it, or "Yes," and stick to it.

Teach her to dress for health and comfort, as well as for appearance.

Teach her to cultivate flowers and to keep the kitchen garden.

Teach her to make the neatest room in the house.

Teach her to have nothing to do with intemperate or dissolute young men.

Teach her that tight lacing is uncomely, as well as injurious to health.

Teach her to regard the morals and habits, and not money, in selecting her associates.

Teach her to observe the old rule, "A place for everything, and everything in its place."

Teach her that music, drawing and painting are real accomplishments in the home, and are not to be neglected if there be time and money for their use.

Teach her the important truism, "That the more she lives within her income the more she will save, and the further she will get away from the poor house."

Teach her that a good, steady, church-going mechanic, farmer, clerk, or teacher, without a cent, is worth more than forty loafers or non-producers in broadcloth.

Teach her to embrace every opportunity for reading, and to select such books as will give her the most useful and practical information, in order to make the best progress in earlier as well as later home and school life.

A teacher in a San Francisco public school was informed by a lawyer at 2 p. m. that she was heir to $200,000. He expected to hear her whoop and to see her grab her bonnet and run, but instead of that she calmly replied: "I will hear the class in geography, lick three boys, and be at your office in an hour."

RUSSIA is massing her troops on the Austrian frontier and is ready for war, which will begin as soon as the sign is given and that isn't far off.

BISMARK, the old German diplomat, came off victorious in the recent election of the Reichstag. Bis has a pretty strong foothold and is not so easily upset.

YOUNG William K. Vanderbilt's new private yacht, Alva, is now ready for use. The craft, its finishings and furnishings cost $1,000,000. That don't look like hard times, does it?

THE U. S. Senate passed the bill appropriating $46,000,000 for coast defenses, navel vessels, fortifications, etc. In the amendment of the bill it is made a condition that the material for the new vessels shall be manufactured by the United States. Armored floating batteries, or vessels, light draught gunboats, torpedo boats, &c. are to be constructed, which goes to show that the United States do not propose to fool any longer about the safety of its seaboards.

SENATOR Sherman addressed his resignation as president pro tempore of the senate to that body on Washington's birthday. His term as senator expires on the 4th of March and he resigns his office to enable the senate to elect a president whose term extends beyond that time and who can administer the oath of office to senators-elect. The impression is that either Senator Hoar or Senator Ingalls will be chosen to succeed Sherman. Both are experienced and expert parliamentarians.

EVER since President Cleveland with his well-known courage and wisdom vetoed the "pauper pension bill," a measure which every true patriot pronounced an imposition upon Uncle Sam's liberality, some of the radical, red-hot, bloody-shirt Republican papers are squealing and trying to show the soldiers that the Republican party are their friends and that the "solid" South is the fault of it all. Of course! The great trouble is that these papers will never give honor where honor is due as long as a Democrat occupies the White House.

AMONG the bills in place reported in Tuesday's session of the lower branch of the state legislature was one by Faunce, defining what days shall constitute legal holidays. This bill makes the following legal holidays: January 1, the third Tuesday of February, February 22, May 30, July 4, the Tuesday following the first Monday of November, any day appointed by president or governor as Thanksgiving Day, the 25th day of June and 15th of September, both inclusive, after 1 o'clock in the afternoon. It also provides that when January 1, February 22, May 30 and September 25 fall on Sunday the following Monday shall be the legal holiday.

THE retirement of Mr. Manning from the treasury portfolio obliges President Cleveland to look around for a new man. By all reports the official family of the president will undergo a complete change. Speaker Carlisle is said to be Manning's successor, being eminently adapted for the office in all respects. Minister Pendleton is to take the place of Mr. Endicott as secretary of war and the latter is likely to receive a German mission. Garland will leave the cabinet and Postmaster General Vilas is put down for attorney-general. Carlisle's promotion to a cabinet position will necessitate the election of a speaker for congress, and the democrats may soon have to hunt out their best man for that place.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our regular correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21, 1887.

As to what Congress is doing just now, I may say the Senate is overdoing the Naval Appropriation business, and the House is trying to get on with the regular indispensable Appropriation bills. The past week was marked by some important legislation, prominent among which was the passage of the Eads'-Tehuantepec Ship Railway bill, by the Senate and the rigorous Anti-Polygamy bill by both the Senate and House.

You may remember that this measure passed the Senate some time since but it was amended by the House, and now the Senate has passed it as it came from the House.

The Senate has passed bills appropriating about fifty millions for ships of war, coast defenses and other warlike preparations. If the Senate had really wanted to do something for the Navy, it would have passed these bills early enough to permit of their consideration by the House of Representatives. It ought not be expected that the House will pass measures of such magnitude, without an examination which there is not now time to give. But, of course, the Senate will get the credit of having made a brilliant effort towards an increase of the naval establishment, and the House will be condemned for neglect of its duty in this matter.

Everybody is wondering whom the President will appoint on the Interstate Commission. Among the scores of men who have been mentioned for a place, Gen. Atkins, the present Commissioner of Indian Affairs, is one of the latest. His friends say he is a man who could be, officially, as much of a friend to the railroads as to the people. Said one of them: "He could do justice to both, and at the same time has moral force sufficient to outride the temptation of winking at the New York brokers for a consideration."

On next Thursday an effort will be made in the House of Representatives to pass the Pauper Pension bill over the President's veto, and the Republicans are expected to press the matter to such an extent that there will doubtless be a pretty lively fight. The impression is, however, that it will be impossible to overrule the veto.

The first Mexican pension under the recent act granting pensions to the survivors of that war, was issued last Friday. It went to the hero of Cerro Gordo, ex-Senator Williams, of Kentucky. If all the Mexican veterans were able to verify their claims to an allowance and secure it as readily as he, short work would be made of the Mexican pension business, at least. His application was filed in the Commissioners' office at eleven o'clock one day last week, and the pension certificate was mailed in the afternoon of the same day.

The Cabinet succession continues to be a theme of discussion. A week ago it was believed that Mr. Fairchild, the Assistant Secretary, was the man for the place, but suddenly public opinion changed entirely. Some say that the President will appoint a wide-awake, practical politician to succeed Mr. Manning. When the latter tendered his resignation the President brought up the subject of his successor, and Mr. Manning urged upon him the necessity of availing himself of the opportunity to appoint a strong Democrat of national reputation, and suggested two or three names.

Most Excellent.

J. J. Atkins, Chief of Police, Knoxville, Tenn., writes: "My family and I are beneficiaries of your most excellent medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; having found it to be all that you claim for it, desire to testify to its virtue. My friends to whom I have recommended it, praise it at every opportunity." Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup and every affection of Throat, Chest and Lungs.

A Pennsylvania Arrest in Russia.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Feb. 16.—John F. Mackey, a former resident of Fayette county, has been arrested near St. Petersburg by the Russian authorities on suspicion of being an English spy. Mr. Mackey went to Europe to complete his education, and on departing from St. Petersburg recently, he was detained as an English spy, having on his person at the time an English passport. His father has sent on papers to the Russian minister at Washington to prove his son's identity, asking at the same time that he be released.

Catarrh, Hay or Rose Fever.—The cleansing, soothing and healing properties of Darbys Prophylactic Fluid are experienced in the treatment and cure of Catarrh and kidney complaints. The Fluid soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and removes the offensive odor that characterizes the disease. Should the inflammation have reached the throat use the Fluid as a gargle to allay the inflammation and to disinfect.

Saved From Death.

The Deadly Car Stove's Work on a Pullman Sleeper Near Williamsport.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Feb. 18.—At about 6 o'clock on Wednesday morning, as the north-bound express on the Northern Central railway was nearing this city, the Erie sleeping car caught fire from an overheated stove, and the rear and back of the toilet room was soon in a blaze. E. E. Hoopes, manager of the Wilmington Morning News, was on the train and discovered the fire by the smell of the burning wood awakening him, and realizing the situation at a glance he awakened another gentleman, E. C. Caldwell, of Erie, and together they extinguished the flames after a ten-minute fight, with nothing to aid them but the drinking cup and ice water, before any of the passengers realized their danger. The porter had turned on the draft of the stove at the request of one of the lady passengers, who complained of being cold, and was engaged in some other part of the train when the fire broke out. Quite a hole was burned in the end of the car behind the stove and next to the toilet room.

Cured by Her Faith.

Bedridden Maggie Beadling Throws away her Crutches and Walks.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 17.—A remarkable faith cure was reported from Banksville, a mining town two miles southwest of this city, to-day. For several years Maggie Beadling, the sixteen-year-old daughter of a coal miner, has been bedridden. Frequently of late she has lain in a trance for days, and when she would return to consciousness she would tell her friends that she had been to heaven. In proof of her story of transition she told the names and described the appearance of relatives who died before she was born, and of others whom she knew when they were alive.¶

In October and November last she lay in a comatose state for several weeks, during which time she partook only of a small quantity of liquid food. When she revived she claimed to have received Divine communication to the effect that at 2 p. m. on February 17th she would be raised from an invalid's bed and entirely restored to health. This afternoon her father's house was filled with friends and curiosity-seekers. Promptly at two o'clock the young girl arose from her chair, with her crutches in her hands, and flinging them aside walked about the room. The cure seemed complete and she jumped about the room like a child. Miss Beadling was seen by several reporters and pronounced herself well.

—For a time my life was despaired of. My trouble was with the Kidneys, Liver and Bladder—also Constipation. Finally I used Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and in my opinion it saved my life. I make this statement to save those who suffer as I did.—A. J. Gifford, Lowell, Mass. Druggist; $1. Send 2 cent stamp to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., for his book on Kidney and Blood disorders. Tortured for Money.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 21.—A DuBois, Pa., special says: John Bortmas, aged 70 years, lives alone in a small house in Rockland township, Clearfield county. He always kept several hundred dollars secreted in his house. Early on Friday evening Bortmas heard a knock at his door. He saw three men heavily masked standing on the step. They demanded entrance and Bortmas got his shot-gun and fired at them. The shot did not take effect, and the men broke the door and knocked the old man down. They ordered him to tell where his money was hid but he refused, and they then put a rope around his neck, threw it over the top of a door and pulled the old man off his feet by the rope. They hanged him in that way three times, but Bortmas stubbornly kept the secret of his money, although almost dead.

After the third hanging the men restored him and then one of them drew a long-bladed knife and seizing Bortmas by the hair he jerked his head back and placed the blade at the old man's throat. Bortmas told the men to cut his throat but he would not give up the money. Failing to terrorize the old man, the men took a shovel and heaped it full of hye coals, one of them held it to the soles of the old man's feet while the other sat on his legs and so prevented him drawing his feet away. This torture was more than Bortmas could endure and he begged for mercy and told where the money was. The robbers obtained $312, one-third of which was gold.

They did not believe this was all that Bortmas had, and resorted to the torture of the coals again to force him to reveal the hiding place of the rest. He protested under torture that he had no more and the robbers finally ceased. Tying Bortmas to a bed-post the three men went into the kitchen, where they cooked themselves a hearty supper and ate it at leisure. It was 10 o'clock when they left. People returning from a party heard Bortmas' cries and released him. No clue to the robbers has been obtained. Besides the $312 they secured Bortmas had $1,000 under the floor within three feet of where they tortured him. It is believed they live in the vicinity.

A Bright Business Outlook Throughout Pennsylvania.

The Production of Coal for the Year to be Unprecedent—Rolling Stock in Good Demand—Activity in Iron Trade.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 21.—A tremendous demand is predicted for all classes of fuel this year. Every preparation is being made to meet this. New territory is being opened up in both the anthracite and bituminous regions, and contracts have been made for the building of over 500 coke ovens in the state.

There was never before a greater amount of building in prospective than there is for the coming spring. In consequence of this there is active preparation to get materials in readiness. A busy season is predicted for the brickmakers, and the shipments of lumber down the Susquehanna will be just double what they were last spring.

There has been no diminuation in the demand for rolling stock by the railroad companies and every car manufacturer in this state has orders enough to keep him busy for some time. The Baldwin locomotive works of this city are crowded with orders, and they report that the same condition of affairs prevails with locomotive builders throughout the country.

In the Lehigh and Schuylkill valleys, which are the largest producers of iron in the eastern section of Pennsylvania, there is the greatest activity, and employer and employe are on the best terms possible. In every instance where there has been an advance in iron that gave profit over and above corresponding advances in raw materials the employe has been recognized by an advance in his wages.

There are no less than ten iron works of different kinds in contemplation of erection in the middle and eastern sections of the state. The demand for manufactured iron is such that it has given encouragement for the building of such manufactories. The most of them will be established by subscription in the places where they are to be built.

It is reported in commercial circles here that the distribution of manufactured goods has been quickened by the more favorable weather and the prospects of an early improvement in the consumptive demand. A good spring trade is looked forward to in all mercantile lines.

Brace Up.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with Headache, you are fidgety, nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whiskey, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in a worse condition than before. What you want is an alterative that will purify your Blood, start healthy action of Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at J. Eisenhuth's Drug Store.

A Terrible Loss of Cattle.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 18.—Judge McLeary, of the supreme court of Montana, yesterday told a reporter that the lowest estimate of Montana cattle loss for the season is twenty-five per cent., while many cattlemen say forty to fifty per cent. One Rozeman will lose 10,000 out of a herd of 25,000.

—When your children are threatened with croup or whooping-cough, beware how you lull them to sleep with cough syrups whose principal ingredients are morphia and opium. The natural effort of the lungs to expel the suffocating mucus is coughing. Dr. Kessler's Celebrated English Cough Medicine contains no morphia or opium in any form, and by its stimulating actions on the kidneys, bowels, and pores of the skin, more than any other remedy, assists Nature in breaking up and expelling the worst colds from the system. SOLD AT A SACRIFICE!

The Holidays are past, but a lot of holiday goods remain on our hands, and we will sell these gods at a SACRIFICE.

What we wish to say to our customers is this: That we are going to sell cheaper than ever before.

WHY?

First—Because this is a dull season in general. But we are going to make it lively by selling goods way down and selling much.

Second—Because we have a big supply of winter goods on hand, that must be sold in order to make room for a spring stock.

Third—Because we can afford better to sell winter goods cheap than carry them over the saason.

Fourth—Because we have the "Swing" and are bound to keep it.

REMEMBER!

We have anything from a needle to a hogshead of molasses—a good Sewing Machine or a house and lot.

—Miss Mamie Peters is at home on a visit to her parents on North Street.

—A good building lot, located in the central part of town, for sale. Inquire at this office.

—The two smallest of Harvey Confer's children are down with the measles at present.

—Next Sabbath evening, Feb. 27th, there will be services at Coburn by Rev. M. L. Deitzler.

—The property of the late Mrs. Sarah Bright on Main street was not sold last Saturday, the bids having been too low.

—Two great enemies—Hood's Sarsaparilla and impure blood. The latter is utterly defeated by the peculiar medicine.

—Remember that this office turns out neat and attractive sale bills at low prices. If you intend making sale call on us.

—The sale of farm stock and household goods of John Harper, dec'd, late of near Centre Hall, will take place on Tuesday, March 1st.

—We understand that Mrs. A. J. Harter, on Penn street, is confined to the house by a mild form of erysipelas, which lodges in her face.

—Persons wishing orders for excursion tickets to the M. E. conference at Bellefonte from this place or vicinity should apply to Dr. J. F. Harter.

—Speaking the real truth J. W. Stover's grocery store on Main street is one of the neatest in this part of the county. And the prices there suit the purse of everybody. Go and see.

—Listen for the wedding bells. They will shortly ring in this place, but we will not tell more until the cards are out. Time enough then. No chestnut.

—Mrs. G. W. Harter, Main Street, we are pleased to state, has nearly recovered from her late sickness which confined her to the house for a week or so.

THE Great Zingari. For toothache and neuralgia it has no equal. Warranted. Only 15 cents at all drug stores. Johnston, Holloway & Co., Philadelphia Agents.

—Don't forget that the public sale of Philip Frank, near Madisonburg is to take place on Saturday, March 5th, instead of March 3d, as previously announced.

—Mr. S. H. McAlavy, who has been visiting friends in Penns and Brushvalley for the last few weeks, returned to his western home, Elkhart, Ind., beginning of this week.

FLITTING.—On Monday Miss Julia Rockey removed her goods and chattels from A. J. Harter's, where she had been residing for nearly a year to Mrs. Sarah Zeigler's bakery, her future home.

—J. Spigelmyer's house on Water street was purchased by E. J. Swanger, of Coburn, $600, the other day. Jeff does not intend to occupy the home himself this year, but expects to rent it.

CORRECTION.—Mr. Keller, the grammar school teacher, was not visiting friends in Union county, last week, as stated in a former issue, but paid a visit to his home in Adamsburg, Snyder county.

—J. Eisenhuth informs the public that he has added to his drug stock the celebrated KEYSTONE MALT WHISKEY and other pure liquors. Sold only on prescriptions of physicians, for medical use. 33-6m.

—Mrs. Mattie Brown who for some time has been staying with her father, Mark Mooney, north of town, departed for the west on Saturday. She will go to Plainfield, Will Co., Ill., to join her husband, whose home is at that place.

It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by J. Eisenhuth.

—Another lot of fine Trunks, all sizes, and styles arrived at J. W. Stover's. Their low prices will astonish you.

—Prof. A. Bierly was a caller at this office on Monday and stated that his convention at Tusseyville last week was a perfect success, musically, financially and socially. He expects to spend several weeks there with a near relative.

—R. H. Kreamer, of Water Street, is one of our most successful racoon hunters. Last Saturday he returned from the mountains with a racoon and a skunk dangling from the ends of a long pole. Bob is one of those fellows that "get there" every time.

—Everybody is struck with the beauty of Geo. L. Springer's new barber sign. It is gotten up in the best mechanical style and for precision and neatness of work it has no equal in town. It is a fair specimen of the kind of jobs C. W. Albright the carpenter and painter turns out.

—We notice in the Lewisburg Saturday News that the firm of Nesbit Bros., proprietors of the planing mill at that place assigned, their liabilities being estimated from $60,000 to $80,000. It is thought however that they will be able to satisfy all their creditors and shortly resume business.

—Large posters were printed at this office on Tuesday advertising the splendid hotel equipment of landlord Rook, of the National Hotel, at this place, at public sale, to take place on Friday, March 4th. Some fine horses and carriages, as well as a good cow, and several nice shoats will be offered.

—L. J. Noll, whose sickness we mentioned last week is no better at this writing (Tuesday) He suffers from an old bullet wound which he received in the war and which causes him trouble from time to time. His present case seems of a more malignant nature than heretofore.

—Candidates for county officers are heard from quite frequently now. Andrew Ocker, of Madisonburg, will run for sheriff and if his lenghty size has any bearing on the race he will make the office for sure. He was in town on Saturday and hunted up the JOURNAL man on special business.

—The protracted meeting which had been in progress in the Evangelical church of this place for a number of weeks closed last Sunday evening. 40 persons were admitted into the church as members. On Tuesday evening the United Brethren congregation started a revival meeting, in their church, west end of Main street.

—I. S. Frain announces that his splendid Norman Percheron Horse will stand in Penns Valley near or at the same places where he stood last year and also near Centre Hall. Farmers should make a note of this and also remember that Mr. Frain's rates will be lower than last year. Posters advertising particulars will soon be out.

—Mr. Long, of Northumberland county, came up on Saturday to visit his son, E. H. Long, who for the last two weeks was a prisoner in his sick room on North street. E. H. had quite a time of it and his condition was serious for a spell. He suffered from ulcers and catarrh in the stomach. Glad to say that he is on a fair way to recovery.

—The Miltonian of a recent date says that Rev. W. H. Gotwald, a resident of Milton has been elected Secretary of the Juliet City land company, Florida, with headquarters in the State of Flowers. He will take his departure for the duties of the office in two weeks from date, taking with him as clerk, Mr. Musgrave, a reliable young man of more than ordinary ability.

—A copy of the New York Observer Calendar for 1887 has been received at this office. It is designed and printed in beautiful colors by Marcus Ward & Co., of London, expressly for the Observer, and contains well compiled statistics of Church bodies, religions, etc. The calendar is an ornament for any office or parlor and in completeness and value is in full keeping with the paper which sends it out.

—Last Thursday's fire gave our Hook and Ladder Company fair warning that it behooves them to keep in better working order. Some of the members consequently proposed to have a meeting called for the purpose of reorganization and getting in better shape. Right, let there be a meeting very soon, for it is better to "lock the stable before the horse is stolen." President Hartman has the floor.

—THE horrible, nauseons worm-seed vermifuges and worm syrups have had their day. It's downright cruelty to compel a child to take them when McDonald's Celebrated Worm Powders are so easy and pleasant to take that children take them and never know a medicine is being administered. Can be procured at any drug store for the small sum of 25 cents.

JOHNSTON, HOLLOWAY & CO.,
Philadelphia Agents.,
Sold by J. Eisenhuth, Millheim, Pa.

—Wm. H. Rudy, a gentleman from Hartleton, Union Co., was in town last Saturday, and about the first person to accost him was little Johnny Clark, the blind boy, who reminded Mr. Rudy of his promise given some time ago to purchase a Bible for him. They forthwith proceeded to the Journal store where Johnnys religious inclinations received the proper attention, and he was sent home rejoicing with the book of books under his arm. No use trying to get around blind John when he has set his heart on a thing.

TO THE PUBLIC.—H. S. Clemens, M. D., specialist in all chronic affections, and who also treats diseases largely by inhalations, will visit patients once a month at Bellefonte, with office at the Brockerhoff House, for one day only to examine them, and will then send the medicines from his regular office at the city of Allentown, Pa. Send for testimonials. Date of next visit will be from March 8th at 5 p. m. to the 9th at 7 o'clock, p. m., Tuesday and Wednesday. Please remember the date. Also will be in Centre Hall, Thursday, March 10th.

—The band took advantage of the sunshine on Saturday afternoon and turned out from their quarters, not like the groundhog to see their shadows, but to test their blowing abilities and to serenade our new shoemerchants, Messrs. J. H. Musser & Son. The parties serenaded and the serenaders were well pleased, the former with the good music and the latter with the "boodle" they carried back to headquarters. On Monday evening the boys were out on a similar expedition and made the welkin ring in Kauffman's store.

—A very fine assortment and the latest styles of Jewelry just received by J. W. Stover. Will be sold at small profits.

—We see by the Daily News that R. A. Cassidy, one of the editors of the Keystone Gazette, which paper lately burned out at Bellefonte, also lost his printing establishment at Canton, Ohio, by fire on Wednesday of last week. This double misfortune sets hard on Mr. Cassidy and will make the re-establishment of the Gazette so much more difficult.

—IT IS A CURIOUS FACT that the body is now more susceptible to benefit from medicine than at any other season. Hence the importance of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla now, when it will do you the most good. It is really wonderful for purifying and enriching the blood, creating an appetite, and giving a healthy tone to the whole system. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is peculiar to itself.

—Henry Long, of Courtland, Ill, writes us that he has bought a farm of 160 acres of land at Walnut Grove, Knox Co., Nebraska, where he expects to move after the first of March. He prefers having a home of his own and goes farther West to establish it. He orders the JOURNAL sent to him another year and says he would not like to do without it as it does him more good than any paper he can get. We wish Mr. Long the best of success in his new home.

—J. H. Bibby, of Spring Mills, was a caller at this office last week. Mr. Bibby informed us that he has changed the name of the Spring Mills House, of which he is proprietor, and which is now called the Bibby House. Being an experienced hotelist, and a well-informed and pleasant gentleman he has been very successful in the management of his house and expects to further merit the splendid reputation it has been enjoying in the past.

G. A. R. DEPT. OF PENNA.—The following statistics which will prove interesting to veterans of the late war have been furnished us by Adj. Tobias, of Post 298, of this place, for publication: Total number of posts in the state at the end of the year 1886 was 545 with 38,301 members in good standing. During said year 38 new posts were organized and 442 members died. $49,586.33 were expended for the relief of soldiers and others.

DOES YOUR DRESS FIT?—If not, you are very uncomfortable, of course. You will find out what is the matter by reading the article on "Home Dressmaking" in The Housekeeper, the publishers of which offer as a premium with each yearly subscription at $1 (and 20 cts. to pay postage on premium) the Moody Perfect Tailor system and book on dressmaking, the retail price of which is $7--$9 for $1.20. This Tailor system enables any lady of ordinary inteligence to cut a dress in any style wanted from actual measurements with a certainty that it will fit without trying on. For specimen copy of that great home monthly, The Housekeeper, and full particulars of offer, write at once to Buckeye Publishing Co., Minneapolis, Minn., as the offer is limited.

FIRE.—Last Thursday morning the central part of Main street was thrown into an excitement by an alarm of fire, which proved to be in Geo. W. Buck's photograph gallery. Mr Buck had been at work at some negatives and was using a burning lamp. He had occacion to leave his work a few minutes and during his brief absence the light ignited some of the chemicals and in less time than it takes to tell it the whole room was in flames. Fortunately the near neighbors were on hand in time with buckets to save the building and thus prevented a serious conflagration. But the damage to Mr. Buck's instruments and plates is very heavy and was principally caused by water. He estimates his loss at $ with a light insurance.

—Bishop Henry W. Warren will be the presiding officer of the Central Pennsylvania M. E Conference to be held at Bellefonte beginning of next month. The Daily News in giving a short biography of the distinguished divine winds up by saying that "his magnetic power over large audiences is generally known, especially as a lecturer at Chautauqua, and through his Chautauqua Premiers on Astronomy. He has been a large contributor to the church periodicals for many years; writes well, shows vigor of thought, freshness and much beauty of language.

In person tall and well built, without being fleshy, dignified carriage and circumspect, with a bright and sunny countenenance. Very sociable and companionable, he everywhere gives evidence of a well-bred Christian gentleman."

MAGGIE ALEXANDER.—It is with sadness that we chronicle the death of the lady whose name heads this article. She expired on Tuesday morning, about 3 o'clock, at the residence of her brother, Dr. J. F. Alexander, at Centre Hall, where she had her home of late. She had been ailing for a number of years from that incurable disease, consumption, which finally resulted in her demise. Maggie was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Alexander, late of Millheim, deceased, and a sister of our townsman, Hon. W. K. Alexander, of Christ and Reed Alexander, of Penn township, and Miss Kate Alexander, who was with the sufferer to her last moments. Her age was about 32 years. She was a young lady of the highest moral standing and of the sweetest characteristics, all of which made her a favorite in this community. From her earliest girlhood she was a faithful member of the Reformed church and it may truly be said of her that her daily life was in full accordance with her religious profession.

Her disposition was very social; she always had a smile and a kind word for everybody. Her schoolmates in this place will ever remember her as a kind and goodnatured girl, always intent on good feeling among her associates. Thus she won the high esteem and love of all her companions and acquaintances. She was a great lover of music and figured conspicuously as organist in some of the churches of town. Her death will be deeply felt by her relatives and friends, and the few words written in her memory, we think, will be heartily sanctioned by them. But their loss is her gain, and although their grief is great they will not wish her back in this world of tears and sorrow, for she has gone to that land where tears are never shed and sorrow never comes.

The funeral will leave Centre Hall at 9 o'clock, a. m. this (Thursday) forenoon, arriving at Millheim about 11 o'clock. The services will be held in the Evangelical church, Rev. Land (Ref.) officiating. Burial on the old cemetery grounds.

—Rev. E. H. Dornblaser, of Wheeling, West Va., gave this office a brief call yesterday afternoon.

—Florida Oranges, Sweet Potatoes, Lemons and Fresh Oysters always on hand at J. W. Stover's.

—On the day of Miss Maggie Alexander's death Dr. Alexander had a fire at his residence in Centre Hall. It broke out in one of the rooms up stairs and was discovered by a strong smell of smoke which prevaded the house. The doctor ran up-stairs and found that the curtain and the bed in his room were on fire. He pitched the burning articles out of the window and no further damage was done by the flames.

A WELL-KNOWN CITIZEN DEAD.—On Saturday evening, David Ertel, residing about 2 miles west of Coburn, died after having lingered for over four years with sickness, during which time he was deprived of the use of his limbs by paralysis. He reached the age of 57 years and 2 months. Deceased had a wide circle of friends who will always remember him as a mild and peace-loving neighbor and fellow citizen, of industrious and sober habits. For years he managed his mill, known at present as Ertel's mill. His wife preceded him to the grave a few years ago. The funeral took place on Tuesday forenoon and was very largely attended. His remains were buried at Heckman's chapel, where services were held by Rev. M. L. Deitzler, who preached on the text, selected by the subject of this notice himself, found in the 38th chapter of Isaiah, first verse.

—Don't forget that at Stover's grocery you will always find a full supply of Roller and Common Flour.

Neighboring News.

AARONSBURG.

J. H. Musser shipped a car load of wheat from Coburn to the Eastern market last week.

Abs. Confer, our North 2nd St. confectioner, was robbed of nearly all his confectionery, some tobacco and cigars, several old guns and between 5 and 6 dollars in cash, one night last week.

Mr. William Shaffer, father of H. G. Shaffer of the Spring Mills Hotel, who was visiting friends in Akron, Ohio since the holidays, returned last week. He says he enjoyed his visit very much.

Wilmer Stover has already erected a building on his lot in the new D. H. Rote addition to Aaronsburg. This new addition lies south on the road leading from the toll gate, or as some propose, on St. Mary's street.

Rev. Em'l. Dornblazer, from Wheeling, West Virginia, is visiting his father-in-law, Mr. John Bright.

Prof. W. T. Meyer returned to his home, Shamokin, Pa., last week. Mrs. W. T. and her daughter Eva will stay several weeks longer with her parents, Mr. J. H. Musser's.

Rev. W. H. Gotwald, (Luth.) has resigned the Milton, Pa., pastorate and gone to Florida. We are told he went there in the interest of a northern real estate association.

A Mr. Stahl and daughter from Paradise, Pa., were visiting at Dr. E. J. Deshler's for the past 6 or 8 days.

The old pulpit and platform in the Lutheran church was taken out one day last week. A new one of a more modern style will be placed there in the near future.

Sam'l Rupp, for many years a resident of the lower end of Penns Valley, near Woodward, died on Sunday forenoon and was buried on Tuesday forenoon following in the Luth. cemetery in town, Rev. Yearick officiating. Mr. Rupp was past three score years and ten when he died.

B. F. Edmunds, teacher of our second grade school is confined to the house and suffering with Quinsy.

Johnny D—— of the Pine Creek mills thinks Aaronsburg is the place of all places he has ever been for pretty girls. You're right, Johnny, we certainly agree with you. ANOTHER.

THE Most Remarkable Case of all.—A gentleman writes us from Philipsburg, Centre Co., Pa., that his little girl was horribly afflicted with scrofula. Her body was full of sores, ears discharging continually thick yellow purid matter, and her eyes so swollen and inflamed as to be almost blind. One bottle of McDonald's Blood Purifier has to all appearances entirely cured her. Our neighbors, as well as ourselves, consider the cure remarkable.

A bonafide case. The address of the family can be obtained from the editor of this paper.

COBURN.

An infant child of Frank Barker died on Monday night last at Ingleby.

Ammon Grenninger moves to Sugar Valley next week to engage in farming. He also intends moving his saw mill to Sugar Valley before long.

Joseph Kleckner paid a flying visit to the oil regions last week and left for Berwick on Wednesday on a business trip.

The Lutheran congregation of this place are talking of building a church here this summer, provided the necessary funds can be raised. It can be done if outside financial aid is given them, as it should be, for money given to erect a church is not thrown away but merely giving part of the interest back to the Lord on the principal he has loaned us. There should be another church here. It is needed and we hope they will succeed and be able to build this summer.

Mrs. W. H. Kremer is spending a few days with friends in Mifflinburg.

Our R. R. Agt., Kremer and a Mr. Trimmons, from Phila., started this (Wednesday) morning through Brush Valley calling on parties intending to go west and selling them tickets.

Robt. Vonada made a flying business trip to Rising Springs on Tuesday last.

D. Cassler we are informed will occupy the house vacated by Ammon Grenninger.

We are told that Jacob Witmyer intends giving up house keeping and has rented his house to a Mr. Stambach.

VALE.

Rheumatism and Neuralgia cured in 2 Days.

The Indiana Chemical Co. have discovered a compound which acts with truly marvelous rapidity in the cure of Rheumatism and Neuralgia. We guarantee it to cure any and every cases of acute Inflammatory Rheumatism and Neuralgia in 2 DAYS, and to give immediate relief in chronic cases and effect a speedy cure.

On receipt of 30 cents, in two cent stamps, we will send to any address the prescription for this wonderful compound, which can be filled by your home druggists at small cost. PENN HALL.

Mrs. Wm. Wolt, from Lena, Ill., is at present visiting her daughter, Mrs. James Condo.

J. B. Fisher sold one of his bays last week.

Mrs. Jos. Smith had been away on a visit to her daughter at Oak Hall.

The young folks from town had an oyster supper on Monday night. Denver Dan can't tell where, for a good reason—he wasn't invited.

The Misses Carrie Condo and Jennie Herring are at present visiting Dr. Charley Emerick's at Boalsburg.

The regular spring election in the S. P. of Gregg township last Tuesday resulted as follows: Judge of Election, Wm Goodhart; Inspectors, G. D. Armbruster, David Burrell; Assessor, John Minnich; Registration Assessor.-A. C Ripka; School Directors, Wm From, Benj. Limbert; Supervisoas, J. F. Breon, Jno. B. Heckman; Overseer of Poor, J. C. Rossman; Constable, Reuben Kline; Tax Collector, Em'l Zettle; Auditor, S. J. Hering; Clerk, N. S. Weaver.

D. J. Musser has bought S. J. Hering's linn timber and intends sawing it into lumber. DENVER DAN.

GREEN BRIAR.

Miss Annie Auman after a year's sojourn at Centre Hall has again returned to her old home at this place.

The disappearance of Miss Fannie Funk, the mute, in this place, last Thursday night caused quite an excitement. A party of mounted men scoured the woods all day on Friday and preparations were made to make a general search on Saturday. This however was found unnecessary by her voluntary return home, after hiding in a barn for twenty-four hours. There is some talk of sending her back to the Deaf and Dumb Institute at Philadelphia.

David Ertel, after a lingering illness of five years, died on Saturday evening. He leaves a host of friends to mourn his death.

J. C. Smith and family, of Millheim, were the guests of G. W. Stover last Sunday.

There is considerable talk against some of our teachers in this neighborhood. Why not have an investigation, citizens?

Every one seems well pleased that we do not have the constable up our way the coming year. It is so very unhandy to fish with the constable looking on.

The weather of last week put us in mind that spring was close at hand and we concluded to wear both rubbers at one foot.

Salt Rheum

The agonies of those who suffer from severe salt rheum are indescribable. The cleansing, healing, purifying influences of Hood's Sarsaparilla are unequalled by any other medicine,

"I take pleasure in recommending Hood's Sarsaparilla, for it has done wonders for me. I had salt rheum very severely, affecting me over nearly my entire body. Only those who have suffered from this disease in its worst form can imagine the extent of my affliction. I tried many medicines, but failed to receive benefit until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla. Then the disease began to subside, the disappeared, and now I am entirely free from the disease. My blood seems to be thoroughly purified, and my general health is greatly benefited." LYMAN ALLEN, Sexton N. E. Church, North Chicago, Ill.

"My son had salt rheum on his hands and the calves of his legs, so bad that they would crack open and bleed. He took Hood's Sarsaparilla and is entirely cured." J. B. STANTON, Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

From 108 to 135

"I was seriously troubled with salt rheum for three years, and receiving no benefit from medical treatment I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I am now entirely cured of salt rheum; my weight has increased from 108 lbs. to 135." MRS. ALICE SMITH, Stamford, Conn.

If you suffer from salt rheum, or any blood disease, try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has cured many others, and will cure you.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

Diptheria in Tamaqua.

TAMAQUA, Pa., Feb. 17.—Diptheria which in the beginning of the winter prevailed in this borough in an epidemic form, has continued invading families and threatens to become general as heretofore, when a number of deaths occurred. Ernest Reiman, residing on Gray street, has lost three children, who fell victims to the disease, and the fourth and only surviving child is in a critical condition. A great many children in different parts of the borough are sick.

Fatal Accident to Small Boys.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 17. — James, Harry and George Smith, brothers, aged ten, eight and five years respectively, and Roderick O'Conner, aged nine years, were playing this afternoon around a foundry near their home when a pile of heavy flasks fell, burying the boys beneath. Their cries and moans attracted some of the workmen and they were soon released, but it was found that George Smith had been crushed to death. His brothers were badly injured and O'Conner had a leg broken beside being badly bruised about the head and body.

A Destructive Fire at Petersburg.

PETERSBURG, Va., Feb. 17.—Late last evening a fire was discovered in the drying-room of the immense brick tobacco factory of David Dunlop, and in less than half an hour after the fire broke out the whole building was enveloped in flames. The factory was one of the finest in the United States, and gave employment to over 400 operatives. The entire building was burned to the ground, with stock, fixtures and machinery. It is impossible to ascertain the exact loss, but it will reach fully $260,000, partly covered by insurance. A handsome brick residence adjoining the factory, owned by Mr. Dunlop, was also burned.

A Corpse Comes to Life.

KINZUA, Pa., Feb. 17.—Eddie Coose, aged 16 years, was found lying apparently dead on top of an oil tank near this village on Sunday. A number of physicians were summoned, who agreed that life was extinct and that death had resulted from the inhalation of poisonous gasses rising from fresh crude oil. The boy was coffined and prepared for burial at the home of his parents, near Corydon, Pa., and the services were in progress yesterday afternoon when signs of life were shown in the supposed corpse. He was removed from the coffin, medical aid again summoned, and this morning the lad gives every hope for his complete recovery.

He Liked Them.

In early times up in the pine woods, when our folk weren't all millionaires, some of us used to get up a chopping syndicate. A dozen fellows, all good with the axe and hand-spike would club together, chip in and buy grub for the winter, and go into the woods to chop and log pine. In the spring they sold their logs, substracted the winter's expenses, and divided profits. One fall such a party was made up in my town. They were all ready to go into the woods, when some one asked who was going to cook. 'I won't' said one. 'I can't,' said another. A third said he could, but he'd be blamed if he would. It went on, and nobody would cook. In those times, as now, a cook got big pay, not less than $50 a month. The syndicate could hardly afford that. Finally one fellow said if they couldn't hire a cook they'd got to have grub, and there was but one way out, they must do the cooking themselves. He suggested that they draw cuts, and whoever got the shortest straw must do the cooking. The first man who should complain of the grub would have to relieve him. This was agreed to, and they went on into camp. The first meal in camp was dinner. The cook had seen his mother cook beans. It looked easy, and he decided to have beans for dinner. He put a peck in the kettle, chucked in a big piece of pork and a double handful of salt. In time the men sat down to dinner. Everybody helped himself. The first to dish out some beans put a big spoonful in his mouth. They were smoking hot and somewhat salt. The fellow spewed the stuff out with a big swear word. 'Those are the doggonest beans I ever ate. Still, I like them—I like them.'
